

Homage to the Noble Lady, the Transcendent Conqueror, Prajna Paramita!

Prajnaparamita, Inexpressible through speech or thought,
Whose very nature is unborn, unceasing space,
The experiential sphere of self-aware wisdom
To you, mother of the buddhas of three times, I pay homage!

RECITE HEART SUTRA

NAMO I pay homage to the Guru.
I pay homage to the Buddha.
I pay homage to the Dharma.
I pay homage to the Sangha.
I pay homage to the Great Mother, Prajnaparamita.

May all my words of truth come to pass!

Just as formerly, Indra, lord of the gods, through contemplating the profound meaning of transcendent wisdom, and through the force and power of uttering these words, reversed all malevolent forces and wrongful acts and the like, may I too, through contemplating the profound meaning of transcendent wisdom and reciting these words, reverse all evil obstructions, misdeeds, and so on.

May they be overcome!

May they be pacified!

May they be completely pacified!

I prostrate to the one who teaches
That whatever is dependently arisen
Does not arise, does not cease,
Is not permanent, is not extinct,
Does not come, does not go,
And is neither one thing nor different things.
I prostrate to the perfect Buddha,
The supreme of all who speak,
Who completely dissolves all fabrications
And teaches peace.

By this auspiciousness, may there be the happiness of harmony and prosperity, may we be free of harm and discord, and may we pacify all 80,000 kinds of obstructions, here and now. May there be good fortune!
